Australia Day in the Gardens

What a glorious day Penshurst residents were treated to on Sunday when the community came together to celebrate Australia Day in the Penshurst Botanical Gardens. A large crowd turned out and were treated to musical accompaniment, compliments of Paul Sutherland and Tony Hogan. Rod Orchard raised the Australian flag and the crowd sang "ADVANCE AUSTRALIA FAIR".

Our guest of honour was the C.E.O. of the Southern Grampians Shire Council Mr. Tony Doyle and he had the honour of presenting the award to the PENSHURST CITIZEN OF THE YEAR. There were six residents nominated and the resident with the most nominations was the recipient of the coveted award and this year the award goes to AMA COOKE. Congratulations Ama! Well deserved after years of tirelessly serving the community.

The Master of Ceremony was Rob Coates and he talked about where we have come from and our forefathers and foremothers that made enormous sacrifices to forge the nation that we are privileged to call home today. Our colonial past was discussed as well as the devastating effect white settlement had on the indigenous population.

He called on the audience to think about who we are today. What are our values and what do we envisage moving forward, in particular for our beautiful town of Penshurst.

The highlight was reminiscing about the great Australian poet BANJO PATTERSON and Rob recited CLANCY OF THE OVERFLOW, much to the delight of the audience.

Afterwards, we enjoyed a BBQ breakfast compliments of the PENSHURST LIONS CLUB.

A big thankyou to the Penshurst Progress Association, the Penshurst Lions Club, Paul Sutherland, Tony Hogan, Will Gordon, Sarah Vafidis, Jacqui Tribe, Rod Orchard, Kate Orchard and the Penshurst Post Office for their hard work in making the day a success.

Everyone is invited to join in the celebrations on 26th January next year. SEE YOU THERE.

E Five Minutes with DAN TEHAN

Wannon's hard working local MP is delivering outcomes for our community.

Dan Tehan has been Australia's Trade Minister, Education Minister and Veterans' Affairs Minister, and is the Federal Member for Wannon. He lives and works in Hamilton and is a mad Richmond Tigers fan.

Dan, tell us about your job as a Federal Member of Parliament?

It's the best job in the world, to be honest. My mother was a state MP and she taught me the values of hard work, respect and giving back to your community, and that's how I approach my job as an MP. I also love the variety of my job. One day I'm talking to school children in the Penshurst area about Australia's democracy and the next day I'm helping a business in Penshurst with a visa issue.

What's the best thing about your job?

Helping people and delivering for our community is the most rewarding part of the job. I've delivered over $3 billion in funding to projects across Wannon. These range in size from new change rooms at sporting clubs to the Federal Government's $50 million investment in the Great Ocean Road. Every project I have helped with has improved life for people in our community. Even as a Minister in Government, my work has helped local people. As Trade Minister I negotiated the UK Free Trade Agreement that eliminated tariffs on Australian agricultural goods exports to the UK, which has helped our dairy, beef and grain producers in Wannon.

What's one of the hardest things about your job?

The driving can be daunting. At over 34,000 square kilometres, Wannon is bigger than Belgium, stretching from the South Australian border in the west to almost Geelong, covering the Surf Coast and Great Ocean Road on the coastline right up to Casterton and Ararat in the north. I try as hard as I can to cover the whole electorate and that means a lot of time away from my home in Hamilton. But I've made a commitment to the region and I don't believe you can properly represent a regional electorate if you don't live and work in it. I've done over 100 listening posts around the electorate in 2024, and more than 1,000 since I was elected. It's important that I stay connected with the entire electorate as every community is different and it's important to represent them all.

What is your plan for Wannon?

My plan for Wannon is to keep making our communities the best in Australia to live, work and raise a family. We need to increase funding for our roads, (not cut it like the Albanese Labor Government have done), immediately address cost of living issues, invest in our health network and keep developing our community infrastructure. We also need to support small businesses and farmers—who are the engine room of job creation in the electorate—and deliver practical, local, outcomes for our natural environment. In short, my plan for Wannon is to continue to build on the over $3 billion of funding already delivered, strengthening our communities and way of life.

It is said that when you move to a new home with a garden, do not be too hasty in cutting out dead looking plants. I have moved and was wanting to cut out a very badly pruned, cut back plant which turned out to be a Hibiscus similar to the one pictured.

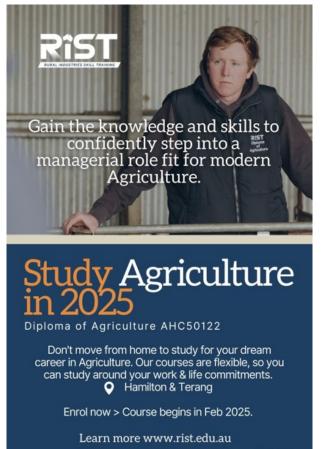

I didn't realize that there was such a large variety of Hibiscus until I started researching the plant for these notes.

The Hibiscus family has around 220 quite diverse species including hot-climate evergreen shrubs and small tress and there are also a few deciduous, temperate-zoned shrubs and even some annuals. They come in many colours with large single or double flowers with rich pink being the most common.

Hibiscus are fairly heavy feeders and like plenty of food and water during flowering. A rich welldrained soil with plenty of compost or manure is what they like. Trim after flowering to maintain shape. They are frost-sensitive and need sun in winter. Well, my four plants might not look so good at present but are still blooming, if not profusely, despite many years of neglect which I will eventually remedy.

The next meeting of the garden club is on Tuesday the 11th Feb meeting at the Hamilton Botanic Gardens at 10am where we will have morning tea. The "special" bloom for the month is a dahlia. A bloom and an item of produce are also the other competitions for the month. The competitions are a way of showing off products from our gardens. Please bring your own mug and a fold up chair. A short meeting will follow (usually to discuss where the next meeting will be). Members of the garden will meet us there and give a small talk and a guided tour of the gardens. Following this we will then go onto the garden of Robyn Brader.

For more information, please contact the secretary, Marita 0439 669 839. Visitors are always welcome.

From the cluttered desk of the Editor

It's Saturday afternoon and I should be creating the newsletter, only I don't feel like doing it right now. Instead, I am procrastinating, playing a silly game on the computer (after hours of responsible paperwork), and listening to the deep silence, broken only, suddenly, by the song of a magpie, before the silence (and perhaps the bird) descended again.

The lack of sound is palatable. You can almost taste it. Certainly, you can smell the smoke in the brown pall that hangs like a mist across the whole town and region. It reminds me how lucky we are that the fire has not invaded our homes. Yes, it was in the area around Gazette not long ago, as it has been many times before, but its not roaring down our streets and, in this case, didn't affect the clean, dry clothes that I quickly pulled from the line. And then I think about the floods in Queensland, and hungry sheep and cattle. And hungry people. Australia is called the lucky country. Sometimes I wonder why. And then I think of the unrest in the rest of world, the thought that led back to Australia Day

Dorothea MacKellar wrote "Core of my Heart" (aka My Country) in 1907 while she was visiting England and missing her home. The second stanza is possibly one of the most well known and recited pieces of poetry in Australian history. https://www.dorotheamackellar.com.au/

The love of field and coppice Of green and shaded lanes, Of ordered woods and gardens Is running in your veins. Strong love of grey-blue distance, Brown streams and soft, dim skies I know, but cannot share it, My love is otherwise.

I love a sunburnt country,

A land of sweeping plains, Of ragged mountain ranges, Of droughts and flooding rains. I love her far horizons, I love her jewel-sea, Her beauty and her terror The wide brown land for me!

The stark white ring-barked forests, All tragic to the moon,

The sapphire-misted mountains, The hot gold hush of noon, Green tangle of the brushes Where lithe lianas coil, And orchids deck the tree-tops, And ferns the warm dark soil. Core of my heart, my country! Her pitiless blue sky, When, sick at heart, around us We see the cattle die But then the grey clouds gather, And we can bless again The drumming of an army, The steady soaking rain.

Core of my heart, my country! Land of the rainbow gold, For flood and fire and famine She pays us back threefold. Over the thirsty paddocks, Watch, after many days, The filmy veil of greenness That thickens as we gaze ...

An opal-hearted country, A wilful, lavish land All you who have not loved her, You will not understand though Earth holds many splendours, Wherever I may die, I know to what brown country My homing thoughts will fly.

Community Satisfaction Survey Set to Open January 28

Southern Grampians Shire Council invites residents to have their say in the 2025 Community Satisfaction Survey, which runs until mid-March.

Council CEO Tony Doyle emphasised the importance of the annual survey in shaping the Shire's future.

"This survey is an invaluable tool for understanding how our community feels about Council's performance. It highlights where we're excelling and pinpoints areas that need attention," Mr Doyle said.

"Your feedback helps us make informed decisions, improve services, and plan for a stronger future."

Independent research company National Field Services (NFS) will conduct the survey. A minimum of 400 local residents and ratepayers aged 18 and over will be randomly selected to participate in a telephone interview. The survey will cover key topics such as:

- Council performance
- Community consultation and engagement
- Customer service
- Overall Council direction

National Field Services (NFS) will clearly identify themselves when calling. Importantly:

- They will not ask for personal information like names.
- They will specify how long the survey will take.
- Calls will not come from mobile numbers.

Participation will be anonymous.

The survey is conducted by the Department of Government Services on behalf of participating councils. Results will be compiled into a report comparing Council's performance against previous years, other councils across the state, and similar municipalities.

In 2023, over 30,000 residents from 66 local government areas participated, providing valuable insights for local governments across Victoria.

For more information, visit www.localgovernment.vic.gov.au or contact Victorian State Government Services on 136 186.

For general enquiries, please contact Southern Grampians Shire Council on 5573 0444.

28 January 2025 - Community Input Sought for Safer Local Roads Upgrades

Southern Grampians Shire Council is excited to announce a major step forward in road safety improvements, thanks to a grant opportunity through the TAC's Safe Local Roads and Streets program. This initiative, developed in partnership with the Department of Transport and Planning, provides funding of up to $2 million for each Victorian council to deliver critical road safety upgrades.

With this funding, the Council is focusing on addressing key recommendations from the 2023-2024 road safety audits, ensuring safer journeys for all road users across our Shire.

The planned upgrades include:

MEDIA RELEASE SOUTHERN GRAMPIANS SHIRE COUNCIL

• Safer intersections: Several Y-intersections will be transformed into T-intersections, which will significantly improve visibility and reduce collision risks.

Enhanced school crossings: Flagged crossings near schools will be replaced with raised 'Wombat crossings,' offering safer, more visible pedestrian zones. Mayor Dennis Heslin shared his support for the initiative.

"These projects have been carefully selected based on risk assessments, ensuring the grant funding makes the greatest possible impact. By addressing these key areas, we're not only improving road safety but also enhancing the infrastructure our communities rely on every day."

Council's Project Management Office is eager to hear from the community about these proposed upgrades. Community feedback will play a vital role in shaping the final plans and ensuring the improvements reflect the needs and priorities of local residents.

Please visit our website to explore the proposed projects in detail. Here you will be able to share feedback through our engagement portal.

31st January 2025 - Have Your Say on Hamilton's CBD Revitalisation

Southern Grampians Shire Council is excited to invite the community to help shape the future of Hamilton's CBD as part of a major streetscape revitalisation project. The Hamilton CBD Revitalisation Project will focus on the CBD streetscape between Kennedy and Cox; and French and Lonsdale Streets. This project, which will be completed in three stages, aims to create a more vibrant, welcoming and accessible town centre and will explore options to improve public spaces, introduce more public art and signage, parking, and improved trees and landscaping. Council is now seeking feedback on concept plans for the first stage of the project, Gray Street between Brown and Thompson Streets, including the roundabouts.

In this stage, the current central zebra crossing is proposed to be retained and raised, with the existing central widened footpath area to be lengthen. Feature trees, new garden beds, public art and new street furniture are proposed in this area to provide a vibrant central activity zone. The two other existing informal narrow road crossings are proposed to be removed. The existing red brick footpath paving is to be removed and replaced with stone paving laid on a reinforced concrete slab.

The Commonwealth Bank forecourt will be revamped with new street furniture, landscaping and new public art installation and the Thompson Street and Brown Street roundabouts will also see improvements, with refreshed garden beds and new street furniture.

The current London Plane trees throughout the CBD are causing issues and risks for Council due to dropping leaves, allergens and invasive roots extending well beyond other species and into private properties and drainage systems. For these reasons, they are proposed to be removed as part of the project as each package is reconstructed and replaced with a more suitable, semi-mature species.

Southern Grampians Shire Council Mayor Dennis Heslin is eager to see the transformation take shape.

"The Hamilton CBD is long overdue for an upgrade. We are keeping community at the front of mind throughout this process. We want to create a space that's beautiful, functional, and welcoming for everyone.

"These plans have been developed following previous consultation with the community and we're now seeking your feedback on what's proposed. I encourage everyone to get involved in this consultation process so we can make sure we get it right," concluded Cr. Heslin.

A pop-up consultation space will be open at 107 Gray Street in Hamilton from Wednesday 5 February to Friday 7 February 10-7pm and Saturday 8 February 9-12pm, where residents can drop in and chat with Council staff. Feedback can also be provided online until Monday 17 February at Hamilton CBD Streetscape Revitalisation | Engage Southern Grampians. https:// engage.sthgrampians.vic.gov.au/hamilton-cbd-streetscape-revitalisation

There will also be a dedicated business session at Hamilton Cinema on Tuesday 4 February from 6.00 to 7.30pm to discuss the project with local traders and the long-term benefits for our shopping district.

It's time to play... "Catch the snow ball"

I heard of this endearing game the other day from the other side of the globe. You create a snowball and allow your pet dog to see it. Then you hurl the snow ball into the distance where it splatters into a thousand snowflakes.

Your dog has followed the flight of the snowball through the air and has bounded off exuberantly to chase the snowball but then when the snow ball has exploded, runs around in quizzical circles almost as if to say 'I know it's around here somewhere.' Then, called back the process is repeated with both owner and pet enjoying the game and sense of fun.

As I imagined this game it seemed to bear an uncanny resemblance to my own quest to grasp the divine. The glimpse of something unquestionably real, the bounding along with hope and delight only to find that somehow what I thought I was chasing has morphed into a different dimension and I am left puzzled and intrigued. 'What just happened here?'

What if the aim is not actually to capture the snowball and claim it solely for myself. Maybe the thrill of the chase is what it's all about.

I ponder that the snow is all about and around. What I saw was perhaps just a concentrated and compounded glimpse of something that is not elusive, but is natural, available, reachable and as infinite as snow in the northern hemisphere on a chilly February evening.

And then I turned the whole thing on its head and asked. 'What if in fact it is we who are the elusive part in this game?' Maybe it is an exuberant and enthusiastic God who simply is chasing us and longs to play 'Catch the snowball'.

Plunge into the grunge

Over the years it has been my undeserved privilege to totter along to a few dinner parties. These were often colourful and riotous occasions with tasty food and refreshing beverages. Sometimes new acquaintances were initiated. Frequently old relationships were enhanced and strengthened. There was often giggling and sometimes uninhibited, raucous laughter. As far as I'm aware no-one ever got arrested and the experience is recalled with fondness and affection.

But those ingredients of friendship, conversation, privilege and service are also to be found in what comes after dinner party. The grungy, inevitable dishes.

Some of my most fruitful conversations were not at the dinner party table but at the kitchen sink doing the washing up. Here in the hot sudsy water, adorned in my finest rubber gloves and Mothers Union apron, I learnt about the important stuff. The argy bargy over that will that was made last century and is still hotly contested at vast expense. Old so and so's gout/hernia/tonsillectomy. The time when The Reverend X did the unthinkable and unspeakable.

It's easy when the wine is flowing, the food is fabulous and the company is witty and sparkly, but this is only a small part of the whole life experience. Such bliss is unsustainable. Real, authentic service, the gritty nitty stuff, the muck that really matters, is often not attractive, a bit on the nose and not at all glamorous. There must be times when we roll up our sleeves, maybe even put on a pair of gum boots, take a deep breath and plunge into the grunge.

It is there that we do some of our finest work and some of our most rewarding service. It is there in the bathing of wounds with patient listening and reaching out with a compassionate heart that we will find ... we will find Him.
